

2018 Legislative Session so far....

Update for the Emergency Management Council Nancy Bickford Nov 2, 2017

Upcoming 2018 Session Emergency Management Legislation ..... (so far)

- SB 5936 Eliminates the Prohibition on Planning for Nuclear Attack from Emergency Management Statutes (Frockt/Miloscia)
  - 1. In section 1 it strikes from RCW 38.52.010 (4) Definitions = Eliminates from statute "However, "emergency management" or "comprehensive emergency management" does not mean preparation for emergency evacuation or relocation of residents in anticipation of nuclear attack"
  - 2. In section 2 it strikes from 38.52.030 Director Responsibilities = Eliminates from statute "The comprehensive, all-hazard emergency plan authorized under this subsection may not include preparation for emergency evacuation or relocation of residents in anticipation of nuclear attack."
  - 3. Finally, in section 3 it strikes from 38.52.170 Planning for Federal Areas = Eliminates from statute "The plan of emergency authorized under this section may not include preparation for emergency evacuation or relocation of residents in anticipation of nuclear attack."

- Continuity of Government Bill (Rep Goodman/Sen Takko)
  - Revisions to Article II, Section 42 Governmental Continuity During Emergency Periods and updates RCW 42.14
    Continuity of Government Act and RCW 38.52 Emergency Management Act is needed to provide for continuing essential functions and services following a catastrophic incident.
  - These efforts will include, but are not limited to, providing for the orderly succession and appropriate changes of leadership whether appointed or elected, filling vacancies, interoperability communications, and processes and procedures to reconvene government following periods of disruption that may be caused by a catastrophic incident.
  - Current statute and provisions of the constitution only provide for Continuity of Government (COG) in the event of an "enemy attack".
  - COG is also needed in time of catastrophic incident emergency or disasters due to other hazards, natural (e.g., tsunami, earthquake.) or man-made (terrorism).
  - This legislation expands the provisions to include beyond enemy attack and adds to statute the contextual definitions from the National Incident Management System (NIMS) and National Response Framework to include "catastrophic incident" and "Continuity of Government (COG) planning"
  - Requires EMD to develop a program to provide information and education to state and local government officials regarding COG and assist with plans.

Upcoming 2018 Session Emergency Management Legislation ..... (so far)

- HB 2042 Governor's powers to waive statutory obligations or limitations in order to preserve and maintain life, health, property or the peace during a state of emergency (Walsh/Zeiger) - Sen Zeiger intends on introducing Senate companion bill
  - 1. Intent section explains that historically emergency powers have historically included the ability to temporarily waive or suspend by prohibiting compliance of statutory provisions during a proclaimed emergency but when RCW 43.06.220(2) was amended following the 2007 flooding explicitly adding specifically identified statutes (not at the department's request) that could be waived this inadvertently narrowed the governor's ability to waive or suspend statutes.
  - 2. Authorizes the governor, after proclaiming a state of emergency and before terminating the proclamation, to issue an order concerning the waiver or suspension of other statutory and regulatory obligations or limitations as he or she reasonably believes should be waived or suspended to help preserve and maintain life, health, property, or the public peace, unless the authority: (1) Has been expressly granted to another statewide elected official; or (2) Conflicts with federal requirements that are a prescribed condition to the allocation of federal funds to the state.
  - 3. Requires Governor to give as much notice as practical to the legislative leadership and impacted local governments.
